A LIGHT IN THE COMMUNITY

The home in which the members are polite, courteous Christians exerts a far-reaching influence for good. Other families will mark the results attained by such a home, and will follow the example set, in their turn guarding the home against Satanic influences. The angels of God will often visit the home in which the will of God bears sway. Under the power of divine grace such a home becomes a place of refreshing to worn, weary pilgrims. By watchful guarding, self is kept from asserting itself. Correct habits are formed. There is a careful recognition of the rights of others. The faith that works by love and purifies the soul stands at the helm, presiding over the whole household. Under the hallowed influence of such a home, the principle of brotherhood laid down in the word of God is more widely recognized and obeyed year, Ms. George also began a cell group that specifically ministers to young people who have a desire to foster a stronger relationship with Christ through the studying of His word. She often recites 1 Timothy 4:12, which states and I quote "Let no man despise your youth, but be an example ...", end quote; For she believes that with Christ all things are possible and a lack of experience thereby, simply leaves more room for God to display His supreme power. Her desire is to be a role-model to other young people and to continuously challenge herself to be a better representative of Christ each day.

This morning, Ms. Clara George is being recognized for the significant role she plays in her community, for being a great role-model to other young people and also for the courageous step she took towards becoming the youngest principal, not just here on our country St. Maarten but in the entire Caribbean Union of Seventh day Adventists.

Clara George Biography

Compiled for Philipsburg Seventh-day Adventist, 2019 Community Guest Day

Ms. Clara George is an educator by profession who captures every opportunity possible to both impart knowledge, as well as, gain understanding through the magnificent world designed by her creator. She currently serves as the School Principal for the St. Maarten Seventh-day Adventist School and prides herself in being a product of Adventist Education. In 2011, Ms. George graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Elementary Education with an emphasis in General Science from the University of the Southern Caribbean. Being a strong advocate for continuous learning, she undertook a Media Coach training within her first year of teaching and became a certified Media Coach in the year 2012. She later obtained her post-graduate diploma in School Management in 2014. Then in 2017, she successfully completed her Masters degree in Education from Walden University in the area of Integrating Technology in the Classroom.

Ms. George has traveled to various islands within the Caribbean to offer motivational speeches that empower young women and has conducted several workshops on Technology Integration in Education to over 100 educators. Her desire is to be continuously used by God for His glory and to use the little gifts He has given her to bless others.

When featured last year in the Instagram campaign, "Girls with Roots", an initiative organized to empower black girls within the Caribbean; Ms. George gave affirmations to young women to challenge themselves to go beyond what they, or anyone else, have set as their limit. To challenge the status quo, and take up the mantle of becoming powerful leaders in their community.

However, far beyond any earthly accomplishments, her greatest desire is to continue to partner with Christ in winning souls for His kingdom. She first became involved in small group ministry by serving in Branch Sabbath Schools while studying in Trinidad. There she was able to share the joy of the gospel with many children from various impoverished communities. Last
